MEGIBUNG

One set of meal with rice, meat and vegetables is called sela, and it's customary that one sela is to be eaten by eight person, where they would often sit in circles and share the food in front of them.

OMED - OMEDAN

Also known as 'The Kissing Ritual', is a ceremony held by the young people of Banjar Kaja Sesetan. It originates from a fight between a male and female pig and represents the push and pull of positive and negative elements.

MEKOTEKAN

They walk toward the temple around the village and each bring a long wooden stick approximately three to four meters. They all stick together with each other hand held to endeavor such a towering triangular building, and one or two people enthusiastic try to climb up to upper of sticks towering.

The Best Thing to Do in Kuta

Explore The Buzzing Nightlife of Kuta

There are lots of bars, cafés and nightclubs located side by side on the main road in Kuta. There are clubs for dancing, there is live music and there is even a sling-shot for those who seek adventure in the night. Reggae bars, rock bars, night clubs, you name it, it is there! Kuta's hustling and bustling nightlife is not for everyone, go see for yourself whether you love or hate it!

Morning Run on The Beach

Perhaps not after a night of partying, but going for an early run on Kuta Beach certainly is wonderful! Go around 6 or 7 am for a perfectly empty 10-meter coastline that runs from the airport all the way to the end of Seminyak, just perfect for beach running! A perfect start to the day, healthy and refreshing. Try it out!

Visit The Ground Zero Monument

The Ground Zero monument sits is located on the border of Kuta and Legian, built as a perpetual site and a tribute to the fallen victims of the 2002 Legion bombing. This site takes over the destroyed Paddy's Pub that once stood on the main Legian road. The bar was rebuilt further down along Jalan Legian, named 'Paddy's: Reloaded' and continues to slay partygoers to the new structure that is open on all four sides along with a high roof and hard tiled floors, giving it a light and airy feel.

Sunset Drinks on Kuta Beach

Kuta is world famous for its breathtaking sunsets! In the late afternoon, wander down to the beach and take a chair at one of the beach stalls or pick out an ocean-front beach venue, where you can sip a sunset cocktail or drink a cold Bintang beer and just gaze at the jaw-dropping sunset until the night sky appears. It is magically enchanting!

Enjoy a Traditional Spa Treatment

At the corner of every street, there are pampering spas to be found. Go for a traditional Balinese massage, a reflexology treatment or a manicure and pedicure. Everything is possible! Perfectly relaxing at any time of the day! Balinese believe that body, mind and spirit work in harmony. Health and well being leads to happiness. Our massages have healing power, releasing tension, freeing tissues of toxins and improving circulation.

Eat Local Food

When the sun is down and the shops are closing, there are lots of evening food stalls opening up. You can try Soto Ayam (chicken soup), some delicious chicken sate with rice or try the Balinese 'Babi Guling' (suckling pig). If you wander a little bit outside of the tourist center, the choices are endless! Another option is to eat at a local warung found right in the heart of the tourist center.

Enjoy The Sunset, Feel The Warm

Bali and of course Seminyak is renowned for their spectacular sunsets. Every single day at around 5.30pm ish you will see locals and tourists alike flock to the beach, beach clubs or roof top bars to witness the dazzling show that this island is famous for.

If you are in town – it would be criminal not to participate in this ritual. The sky literally puts on a breathtaking performance, painting the skyline a multitude of colours : pink, yellow, orange, purple, greys, blues, it is truly an experience you must not miss. The snobs love doing it with a cocktail in hand (of course we do) so we have put together a list of just a few of our favourite places to kick back and watch the show.

Ku De Ta

This European-esque restaurant and beach bar, pronounced coup d'état, has pretty high prices on drinks but also an amazing view and location for sunset watching. You can enter directly from the beach, then lay out on the grassy lawn accompanied by plush cushions for a comfortable and classy time.

La Plancha

Enjoy the bright colors, celebrations, and the chance to sit in a fun beanbag chair right on the sand's oceanfront by the La Plancha bar as the sun rolls down. Order a drink and let your worries take a break as you feast your eyes on the view.

Petitenget Beach

If you're looking for a variety of choices when watching the sunset, take a trip to Seminyak's Petitenget Beach to give yourself several your options. There's a temple, several nice restaurants, and awesome beach clubs like WooBar, Potato Head, and Ku De Ta (which we'll talk more about below) as potential options for viewing the sunset.

Potato Head

It's not just the fun name that makes Potato Head a popular place to go for the evening! You'll find a great vibe and good list of delicious cocktails. Plus, it's a great place to visit during the day for some nourishment and a dip in the included pool.

Bali With No Plastic Bag

Ever since plastic was introduced to Bali without the right education and proper recycling facilities, plastic has been finding its way onto our beaches, into our waterways and even into our food. But that's about to change. On December 21st 2018, Bali Governor, Wayan Koster, announced a ban on single-use plastic by June 2019, on June 23rd 2019, the bill was officially instated, meaning dreaded styrofoam, plastic bags and plastic straws are now officially prohibited island-wide.

Following the ban, the Governor hopes to reduce Bali's plastic marine pollution by a whopping 70%. The initiative came after a wave of global media attention and disappointed beachgoers, including the viral photo from @thelifeofjordan on Instagram.

In the past five years, Bali's very own activists at Bye Bye Plastic Bags have been fighting for this plastic-free future. The wave-making founders, Isabel and Melati (two sisters who initiated the youth-driven movement when they were just 13 and 15 years-old) have campaigned relentlessly against the production of plastic bags on Bali. Finally, it seems their pleas are coming to fruition.

Work Hard, Party Harder

Nightlife in Canggu is certainly happening, there is always something exciting going on, and it is up to you to keep up with the frenzied pulse of Bali's nightlife. From fashion shows, beach parties, hot dancing, to sleek lounges and dive bars, there is something to suit everyone's taste. We give you some tips to having a fabulous night out.

Go Late Midnight

Bali's nightlife starts late at night, close to midnight, and you will be disappointed by the lack of crowds if you go there too early. After midnight, however, the pace picks up and Bali's pubs and clubs swing into life. A tip is thus not to take dinner too early, or you might get bored sitting around and waiting for the party to start.

Try The Local Bintang Beer

How can you travel to Bali and not try the local favorite at least once? Bintang Beer literally means 'star beer' and you should certainly have a swig of this Balinese star. If you like it, all the more reason to indulge whilst you're on holiday, as prices are pretty cheap, at about US$3 for an ice cold beer.

You Can Have Your Ice Cold Drinks

You might be very concerned about getting Bali Belly from consuming ice that is contaminated. However, rest assured you can indeed have your ice cold drink, as bagged ice is now regulated by the government and is thus subject to quality control. This ensures that it is safe for human consumption. So no worries about having to drink warm sodas, chill out with an ice cold one!

Avoid The Illegal Drug Pushers Outside Bali Nightspots

We can't emphasize this enough, don't be tempted to take drugs on Bali. You might think that since the locals are selling it, you might be able to get away with it. In fact, those who sell the drugs are often police informants who will then tip off the police to get you. Party hard without drugs and you'll have a great time.

5 Things to Do in And Around Canggu, Bali. Don't Miss No. 2

1. Learn How to Surf at Batu Bolong Beach

Canggu is one of the most popular places in Bali for surfers and it's a good place to learn how to surf. The best place to learn to surf is Canggu Beach. There are two breaks in front of the beach and the bottom is sandy, so you won't hurt yourself when you fall off the board.

You can arrange a surf lesson at one of the stalls on the parking lot. You'll see two places where you can rent your surfboard and also book a surf lesson. It is Rp 50,000 to rent a surfboard for two hours and around Rp 400,000 for a session with an instructor (around 2 hours). Besides Batu Bolong/Canggu beach, you can also surf at Old Man's surf spot, and also Echo beach.

2. Visit The Famous Tanah Lot

I bet you heard about Tanah Lot, right? Guess what? Tanah Lot, one of the busiest tourist attractions in Bali is located 30 minutes from Canggu. A lot of people said that the best time to enjoy Tanah Lot is close to sunset time, I agree on that. Some say, should watch Kecak dance too, however I am not recommending it as I don't think it was good enough.

3. Get a Fruit / Smoothie Bowl

There are so many options! From the famous Nalu Bowls, the crazy busy Betelnut cafe, and also places like Roti Canai, Crate (a lot of people said you should at least try to grab a breakfast at least once in Crate), Peloton, and Machinery Coffee, all provide fruit bowl. Price ranges between USD 2.5 – USD 6.5 per bowl.

4. Do Some Yoga

Doing Yoga in Canggu is a nice compliment or alternative to Yoga in Ubud. There are lots of new and established Yoga studios around Canggu. Some of these studios offer a package / Yoga retreat program where you can stay and do Yoga with them.

5. Join the Sunday Market

There are a few Sunday Markets in Canggu where you can get clothes, food, and jewelry. The Love Anchor Canggu is one of the favorites. The market is located in a little open-air shopping center next to Monsieur Spoon. You can find live music, clothes, craft, food and drink here.

Go to Seafood Market

People pack Jimbaran fish market every morning. Customers arrive early to hunt for the freshest catch unloaded just a few hours earlier. But for those who are late, the market still has lots of fresh seafood available throughout the day. Many market sellers hail from the island of Madura. Fish are kept in boxes filled with water and ice to maintain freshness. From lobster to tuna, the market sells various types of seafood. For example, you can buy prawns of varying sizes at a starting price of Rp 70,000 (US$5.24). Tuna is another favorite type of seafood, but perhaps the most popular is snapper. The sellers will also clean the fish and cut it as you wish.

Chilling on The Beach

Known for its tranquil and clean turquoise waters is one of Bali's best beaches, Jimbaran Bay. As the bay is protected by an unbroken coral reef, the waters here are mellower than other parts of Bali. Stretching 4km in length, this remarkable beach is lined with an eclectic assortment of cafes, restaurants, bars and lounging spots. For those looking for something a little more unique than a visit to Tegal Wangi Beach is a must. This hidden gem of a beach is famous for its sea jacuzzi experience. With jacuzzi sized pools of water lining the shore line, visitors come here to experience nature's private jacuzzi with a view of the ocean that is to die for.

Amazing Things to Do in Jimbaran

Try Best Coffee Ever

Indonesia is one of the largest coffee producing countries in the world. Indonesian coffee is not only popular in its own country, but also to the foreign market. Among the most popular coffee types in the world, Balinese Coffee is one of them. For decades, the original coffee from Bali (Bali origins of coffee) has been recognized by the global community as an exotic coffee with a distinctive flavor, giving off a strong and fragrant aroma. Despite its popularity, it is sometimes still difficult to find a product in the public market that authentically copies the original blend without any mixture. This is why in 2003, the "70° Fahrenheit Koffie Bali" coffee factory was established as an effort to meet the needs of the market by selling original coffee that's pure without any mixture.

“You Can’t Stop The Waves, But You Can Learn to Ride Them”

Nusa Dua, built in 1970s, is situated in the southern part of Bali, Indonesia. Known as an enclave of large 5-star resorts, it covers 350-hectares of land and encloses more than 20 resorts. It is located 22 kilometers from Denpasar, the provincial capital of Bali, and administered under Kuta South District. Nusa Dua means two islands (nusa 'island', dua 'two'), because there are 2 islands in the bay of Bali Tourism Development Corporation area. On the southern side lies Peninsula Island, and on the northern side lies Nusa Dharma Island.

Nusa Dua Water Sport is the best and perfect place to do water sport activities in Bali island with clean and calm water. Located at Tanjung Benoa beach Nusa Dua area, it's only 20 minutes from Ngurah Rai International airport and about 30 minutes away from Sanur via Tol street. Tanjung Benoa has long beach with white sand and well known and has become the main tourist destination and attraction special for water sport and marine activities likes: Jet Packs, Jet Bike, Fly Board,

Banana Boat, Parasailing, Jet Ski, Fly Fish, Water Ski, Wake Board, Turtle island by Glass Bottom Boat, Snorkeling, Scuba Diving, Sea walker, and much more.

Puja Mandala in Bali Complex of Five Religious Sites in Nusa Dua

Puja Mandala is a unique landmark in Nusa Dua, serving as a perfect example of how five of Indonesia's major religions can live harmoniously side-by-side, despite their differences in beliefs and ways of worshiping. In a single compound, the site has a Hindu temple, a grand mosque, a Buddhist temple and both a Catholic and Protestant church.

The 2-hectare Puja Mandala religious complex has a spacious parking lot in front, shared by pilgrims and visitors of all the sites. From the left, first in view is the grand mosque, the Masjid Agung Ibnu Batutah, with its bright green tiled prism-shaped roof and multiple flights of stairs that lead up to its prayer rooms, with ornate grey ceramic laden walls and mihrabs.

The Puja Mandala complex was inaugurated in 1997 by the then Minister of Religion, with funds from the state-owned Bali Tourism Development Corporation (BTDC). The complex is open for visitors, but access into each place of worship depends on each of their particular scheduled events, ceremonies, prayer and congregation times.

Feeling The Magic Atmosphere of Kecak Dance

The best attractions in Uluwatu and Bukit, Bali's southern limestone cliff-fringed peninsula, include one of the island's most iconic temples. For one of the must-see cultural performances, head to the open amphitheatre right next to the Uluwatu Temple to see the kecak dance against a dramatic sunset backdrop, or head to the Garuda Wisnu Kencana Cultural Park in Jimbaran.

Kecak Fire Dance

As one of the most captivating dance performances, the Kecak dance, also frequently dubbed 'the monkey chant' or the 'fire dance' due to its use of a tall fire torch as its centrepiece, is one of the island's most famous performances. It features an artistic live rendition of an episode from the Ramayana epic, particularly involving the monkey army and its main protagonists and antagonists, namely Rama and Sita, and the evil Ravana. The absence of any orchestral accompaniment throughout the performances makes the Kecak dance unique, and the only choruses are the result of the polyrhythmic singing by the male dancers, sounding like 'keh-chuck', giving the dance its name. The best place to see it is at the open amphitheatre next to the Uluwatu Temple, which uses the setting sun and ocean horizon as its immersive theatrical backdrop.

Garuda Wisnu Kencana

Garuda Wisnu Kencana Cultural Park, or 'GWK' for short, is a major landmark project in the hills of Jimbaran, comprising a half-built, to-be-completed statue of the Hindu god Vishnu and his mythical guardian Garuda eagle. The vast 250Ha grounds features a multi-use venue, and is a great stopover along your travels to the other highlights within the Bukit area. In its current form, the god's torso, his hands, and the Garuda are located in separate venues and become icons for each. And when complete.

Uluwatu Temple

Uluwatu Temple, locally known as Pura Luhur Uluwatu, is one of the must-see temples in Bali, second to Tanah Lot in the western coast of the Tabanan regency. The temple sits on the south-western edge of a limestone cliff that is surrounded by a forest, home to hordes of grey long-tailed macaques. The surf breaks near Uluwatu is also named after the temple, which is part of the premier surfing playgrounds of the island's southern coast.

Everything You Wanted to Eat in Traditional Way

Warung Nasi Lawar Men Tinggen

His early morning warung in Sanur specialises in a favourite local rice dish that highlights lawar, the Balinese cold shredded meat (either pork, chicken or duck) or vegetable salad served with rice and spicy homemade sambal sauces. Warung Nasi Lawar Men Tinggen, or Warung Men Tinggen for short, opens in the evenings and through dawn. It's one of the late [places for 'supper' for the locals. Its vegetable lawar ranges from jackfruit and thin-sliced coconut, and its pork also comes as sweet floss with sweet soy sauce-marinated pork known as 'babi kecap'.

Warung Nasi Ayam Men Weti

Near the beach end of Jalan Pantai Segara Ayu, you'll often witness crowded morning scenes with loyal customers queuing up at this local warung. Warung Nasi Ayam Bali Men Weti serves a mixed plate of rice, spiced roast betutu chicken, deep-fried crispy chicken skin, Balinese chicken wrapped style satay or 'sate lilit', spicy chicken soup, half egg topped with hot tomato sambal, blanched cassava leaves, shredded coconut lawar mix, fried peanuts and a special sambal that consists of sliced shallots, chilli and salt.

Warung Men Runtu

If you're looking for great spicy dishes that are all-day favourites among locals, then this is the spot in Sanur for you. The menu has all the spicy snacks of a traditional Balinese household, the likes of 'rujak' fruit salad in chilli and shrimp paste broth, as well as seaweed salads. For something different, try the Balinese dish of 'tipat cantok', (mix of sliced rice cakes, bean sprouts and chopped snake beans doused in a generous portion of hot chilli and peanut sauce).

Manta snorkeling Nusa Lembongan

The manta snorkeling Nusa Penida was the part of our Bali holiday we were the most excited about. A close encounter with these majestic creatures was definitely the highlight of our visit and now we share all the information you need to know about these giant creatures, how and where you can swim with them.

Knowing that manta rays can grow up to 23 ft (7 m) and weigh about 6600 lbs (3000 kg) makes fully understand that many people think manta rays are dangerous. But don't worry, in spite of their size, manta rays are completely harmless to human. Bali manta rays are Reef Manta species (Manta alfredi) that are the second-largest ray species after Oceanic Manta with an average size of 3-3.5 m.

Good news is that there is no specific manta season in Bali. They are present all year round thanks to the fact that the waters around Bali and the Nusa Islands enjoy the benefits of the Indonesian Throughflow. It is technically a massive volume of water (stream) that runs around the Indonesian archipelago from Timor to Bali. This flow transfers the water from the Pacific to the Indian Ocean. This is the largest movement of water anywhere on the planet and meaning that the strait between Bali and Lombok enjoys all the time fresh nutrient-rich currents.

Understanding this phenomenon explains why Bali snorkeling places feature such a vibrant marine life. And also, this is the reason why manta rays can be spotted all year round here! Although, it is never guaranteed that you will see them. They are wild animals that migrate freely wherever they feel like, but manta snorkeling trip organizers always do their best to find them for you. They say the best time to see manta rays is in the mornings when they are the most active, but we saw them in the afternoons as well. Don't forget to check out a Bali climate chart before booking your trip.

Here are 6 Fun Things to Do When on Nusa Lembongan, Bali

1. Take Pictures on Yellow Bridge

This iconic bridge is functioned to connect Nusa Lembongan and Nusa Ceningan. Many visitors make this bridge as a symbol of Nusa Lembongan and Nusa Ceningan since it really catches the visitors' attention from afar. There are some Balinese statues placed on both sides of the bridge in order to bless every passer-by of the bridge.

2. Enjoy Mt Agung View from Paradise Beach

Located at the end of Jungutbatu Village, Paradise Beach provides closer and easier access to enjoy the beauty of Mt Agung and you can also play on the beach.

3. Explore Mangrove Forest

Located in Jungutbatu Village, this forest is one of the must-visit places on Nusa Lembongan. Not only does this mangrove forest offer the lush and panoramic view but you can clearly see Bali from here. Besides exploring the forest by boat, you can also rent a kayak and enjoy the private moment by yourself.

4. Enjoy Nusa Lembongan View from Panorama Hill

Located above the altitude, Panorama Hill offers a breathtaking view of Nusa Lembongan including its beautiful nature, sea, and beaches. You can also witness Mt Agung and Bali from this hill. There are many warung (shops) to stop by if you want to enjoy the view while relaxing.

5. Visit Underground House (Goa Gala-gala)

Built of limestones by Mangku Byasa, a Balinese farmer, and ascetic, this underground house has a depth of 7 meters and some functional rooms such as a bedroom, a kitchen, a living room, a room of asceticism, and a well.

6. Leisurely Bicycle or Stroll Around

Considering Nusa Lembongan is not too big, you can finish exploring this beautiful island in a day! You can see many traditional shops, souvenir shops, restaurants, temples along the way.

“No Water No Life”.

A Place of Relaxation, Rest, and Tranquility

Nusa Penida is located apart from Bali mainland and can be easily reached via speedboat which you can catch in the port in Sanur and this island is definitely one of the places you have to visit in Bali. This is a neighbor to Nusa Ceningan and Nusa Lembongan but like 10 times bigger and less developed but the landscape here is so wonderful. There are many destinations to go in Nusa Penida but the distance from one to another spot quite consumes your time so make sure you stay at least 2 nights, the longer the better since you will have the flexibility to enjoy the tourism spot.

Show Me Your Soul, Ubud

Walk Through The Tegallalang Rice Terraces

These were created as a result of an irrigation technique called 'subak' which creates a stepped landscape and you can visit the terraces after a short drive to the outskirts of Ubud. Some of the activities here include walking around the terraces and you can even learn how to plant and harvest rice. There are also some souvenir stands here and it is best to visit in the morning or late afternoon as the sun can be fierce in the middle of the day.

Shopping in Ubud Art Market

The Ubud Art Market, locally referred to as 'Pasar Seni Ubud' is located opposite the the Puri Saren Royal Ubud Palace and is open daily. Here you can find beautiful silk scarves, lightweight shirts, handmade woven bags, baskets or hats; statues, kites and many other hand-crafted goods. Most of the goods found at the Ubud Market are made in the neighbouring villages of Pengosekan, Tegallalang, Payangan and Peliatan. The location of the Ubud Art Market which is centred among the art producing villages.

Buy Gorgeous Fabrics and Support The Local Women: Threads of Life

A beautifully well-suited name for an amazing initiative! Threads of Life supports thousands of women from 11 islands across the Indonesian archipelago. With a fair-trade business model, selling these fabrics empower these women to overcome poverty. With local materials, natural dyes and traditional methods, the most stunning ikat and traditional Batik fabrics are created, handwoven by these skillful Indonesian women. Weaving traditional fabrics also helps to preserve ancient knowledge and cultural heritage that is traditionally passed on from generation to generation. By buying these gorgeous fabrics, you are supporting the local community and bringing home a unique island souvenir with an amazing story.

A Waterfall Pool That You Can Lounge in Tegenungan Waterfall

Tegenungan waterfall is unique for its lush green surroundings and heavy water flow, perfect for swimming and enjoying the fresh water. With a nearby temple and bathing spot, it's no surprise that Tegenungan is popular with both local and foreign tourists.

Storks Colony in Petulu Village

Having holidayed in Petulu Village Ubud will show you unique things. Because every afternoon around 5:30 p.m., thousands of storks/herons fly over the rice fields and return to their nests and perched on about fifty large trees scattered around the Petulu village of Ubud. Stork type is a white heron known in Bali with the name Kokokan bird. Even though you can see the white heron in the Petulu village during the day, but the best time to see a massive number of storks is in the afternoon before sunset. The location of Petulu Village is about fifteen minutes drive north from Puri Saren Ubud / Ubud Royal Palace.
